5. SIGNIFICANCE OF THE DAY

International Widows Day, observed annually on 23rd June, is a United Nations-recognized day calling attention to the poverty and injustice faced by millions of widows and their dependants worldwide. For the Home of Light & Love Foundation — whose partnership with Tabenacle Widows Home is one of its founding commitments — this day was not just a celebration. It was a declaration: that widows are seen, valued, and worthy of the best care.

James 1:27 — "Religion that God our Father accepts as pure and faultless is this: to look after orphans and widows in their distress." — was lived out in fullness today.

6. CHALLENGES FACED

i. Limited Quality Photography

Photos from the event were not of sufficient quality to fully document and share the day's impact visually. Given the significance of the event — International Widows Day, the Governor's presence, 209 patients served — this was a missed opportunity for strong visual content and donor-facing documentation.

7. RECOMMENDATIONS & CONCLUSION

On Media & Documentation:

Events of this calibre demand dedicated, quality media coverage. The Foundation must ensure that for every major event going forward, a designated photographer or videographer is either part of the team or formally requested from a partner in advance. Clear, high-quality images and short video clips are essential tools for donor engagement, social media visibility, and long-term institutional memory. This must be treated as a non-negotiable part of every event checklist.

8. CONCLUSION

Today, 209 widows were seen by a doctor — many for the first time in a long while. Nine of them will soon see more clearly when their cataracts are treated. Two will breathe and hear better. All of them were reminded that they are not forgotten. Bloom Hospital showed up with skilled hands. The Home of Light & Love Foundation showed up with provision. Tabernacle Widows Home brought them all together. And the widows felt every bit of it.
